Welcome to Julian

Come spring, when love is in the air and the flowers are in bloom, Julian is one of the prettiest spots in San Diego County with its roadside displays of daffodils and lilacs. Julian provides a perfect backdrop for your romantic getaway or wedding day.

As the days grow shorter and the north wind blows in the holiday season, thoughts turn to gift-giving and kindness toward others. You'll find plenty of holiday spirit in Julian. Trimmed in its holiday finest

Julian State of Mind By Ann Reilly Cole

In the small town of Julian, you'll find just what you need to put you in a good mood. That attitude is business as usual for the locals who welcome visitors as friends they haven't met yet.

Julian offers enough art, dining, specialty shops, music, and entertainment to check off everything on your list in a picturesque setting.

Visiting Julian is an easy day trip from San Diego or Orange County, with loads of fun for families and nature lovers. Gold panning, hiking, trail rides, mountain biking, stargazing and arts festivals are just a few of the diversions you'll find in this historic town.

If you have time to linger, whether you enjoy sleeping under the stars, rustic cabin camping or fine lodging, Julian can accommodate you in comfort and style and welcome you back for another season of smiles as a friend next time.

In an age of discount brokerages, Julian Realty prides itself on being a local, full-service brokerage that caters to the needs of its clients AND community. All of our agents are local residents, intimately familiar with the complexities of backcountry real estate. We are the No. 1 Local Brokerage year to date (by residential and land sales volume in 92036 and 92070 combined zip codes). Our goal is to get you the highest return on your investment while maintaining the utmost customer service standards. Give us a call and experience the difference LOCAL makes!

Having worked with many real-estate agents over the years, we have had a variety of experiences... some good, some not so good. Tiffany is simply the best agent we have worked with. She represented us as buyers for a recent home purchase in Julian. Meeting Tiffany happened by chance, as we were looking at another property and "stumbled" on a home Tiffany had listed. She was highly professional, quick to return our numerous calls and text messages, and answered all of our questions honestly. She helped with assessment diligence on another property, and we appreciated her insight and expertise. Working with Tiffany was a pleasure! The strongest endorsement we can give is that we will use Tiffany for all our future property purchases, and recommend her to our friends and family.

History Tidbit . . .

Albert, a former slave, and Margaret met and married in Julian and were outstanding cooks. They built a little bakery and restaurant. That building was eventually torn down to make way for their Robinson Hotel. In 1918 that hotel was to become the Julian Hotel, the longest continually operating hotel in Southern California. It is on Main Street and is still a charming place to stay.

Miss Julian, Teen Miss Julian, and Pre-Teen Jr. Miss Julian are youth ambassadors for the community of Julian, a beautiful town in East County San Diego. The young ladies of the Miss Julian Pageant system strive to become involved with organizations and citizens in Julian through community service and volunteerism.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

As official representatives, these young ladies travel throughout San Diego County & beyond, donating their time. Participating in the Miss Julian pageant helps these young ladies grow in personal strength & character, finding their voices & personal self confidence through their work as area representatives.

HISTORY

For years, the Miss Julian pageant struggled to maintain its presence. However, in 2002, Jill Fleming took it upon herself to resurrect the pageant and restore its significance to the community. With support from the locals, the Miss Julian Pageant emerged as a cherished tradition, solidifying its place as a cornerstone of the community.

East County Performing Arts Association

Welcome to Julian, California — home to a long tradition of high quality theatrical and other stage performances! From dramas to comedies and big Broadway-style musicals, there is something for everyone on stages at the historic Town Hall and nearby Julian Union High School Little Theater.

Find the current calendar of shows at eastcountyarts.org, or ask the staff in Town Hall about our community's next stage production. Email inquiries to info@eastcountyarts.org

We hope you're in town on one of the nearly two dozen weekends we have live performances each year, but if not... please plan a return visit and get your tickets!

The Julian Historical Society

The Julian Historical Society was incorporated in 1963, when a few local historians got together to preserve Julian's past for our future generations.

The Stagemine Garage was built in Pioneer Park and is now home to the 1912 Mack Stage that carried passengers to Julian in the 1900's, and a 1924 Cadillac bus. The Historical Society, with the help of volunteers from the Campo Transport Museum, restored both vehicles over many years of dedicated volunteer labor.

The Witch Creek School building, the Stagemine Garage and the restored vehicles, and many other artifacts may be seen by visiting Pioneer Park, 2133 Fourth Street, Julian, CA. 92036.

Museums are open to the public the first full weekend of the month and every weekend in October from 11:00 am to 4:00 pm.

JULIAN TOWN SQUARE PROJECT

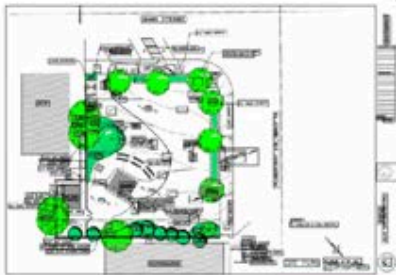

The Julian Community Heritage Foundation

Founded in 2017, under a shared community vision for a town square park on the corner of Main St. and Washington St. The “corner lot,” as it had come to be known, had been sitting vacant and neglected for decades. It was a serious blight in our historic district and with a controversial past, as it was.

JCHF board members along with Dan Thoner, Russ Engevik, Jay Everts, and Rami Abdel

Town Square site plans were submitted to the county, and we expect to obtain to begin phase one this spring/summer. Town Square phase 1 includes: Irrigation & electric infrastructure, planters with native species, donor wall, benches, tables, and maintenance building.

Responsible Tourism

Julian is a small town. It is not incorporated, and there is no “local government.” Julian is under the jurisdiction of County of San Diego. As such, the amenities in town are provided by volunteers. Julian Chamber of Commerce provides 25 trashcans around town and has hired folks to empty them daily. Public restrooms are also provided by the Chamber, which is thankful to San Diego County Supervisor Joel Anderson, who allocated grant monies to help provide these amenities to visitors. In order to help keep this community a place people love to visit again and again:

- Please don't litter. Visitors are here to experience the fresh mountain air and beautiful scenery. So is everyone else, including those who live and work here. Please put litter in its place.
- Please treat the public restrooms with care. Maintaining public restrooms is the Chamber's most costly service. Vandalism and theft are a constant struggle. Please help keep these restrooms in service by respecting them.
- Please park only in designated areas. The roads are narrow in the backcountry. Those who park where they don't belong may hinder emergency services.
- Bring refillable water bottles. There is not a sophisticated recycling program here, so everyone's help is appreciated.
- Respect private property. Guests are asked to be responsible and respect local homes, farms and orchards.

- Share the road. Most ways into Julian are by two-lane roads, and it may be tempting to pass on a double-yellow line. Please be respectful of other drivers and pass only when permitted by law and use turnouts if there are several vehicles behind you. As an added caution, please watch for motorcycles.
- Check road conditions. Snow and ice are common during the winter months.
- Be prepared with chains, if required. For road updates, visit Caltrans Quickmap at quickmap.dot.ca.gov.
- Respect the wildlife. Visitors are likely to see deer, turkeys, foxes and racoons, to name a few. Mountain lions and coyotes also call the Julian area home. Please don't approach, feed or harass any wildlife you are lucky enough to happen upon them.
- Please don't pick the flowers. Imagine the disappointment of traveling to Julian to see the wildflowers, daffodils and lilacs, only to find there are none. Did you know that every year, hundreds of daffodil bulbs are planted locally by volunteers. Please be respectful of those efforts and refrain from going onto private property to "just pick one." It's unfair and robs others of the opportunity to enjoy them.

It's easy to exhibit courtesy and care when visiting the Julian area. The community is very grateful when folks choose to visit. Join with residents in helping to keep the town safe and enjoyable for all who live here and visit.
